O'Keeffe's Working Hands uses a unique formulation of moisturizing ingredients which are guaranteed to improve dry skin. Contains a high concentration of glycerin which helps draw in and retain moisture. Maintaining healthy hands will not only keep you active, it can help prevent a more serious problem from occurring. If you work with your hands, you've got to use Working Hands!

Features:

- Makes your hands feel great, and keeps them in top shape!
- Working Hands hydrates the skin with both water and glycerin. Glycerin is a humectant which draws moisture to itself at a molecular level causing hydration of the skin.
- The unique formulation traps that moisture with occlusive agents. These highly effective ingredients prevent evaporation of hydrating compounds and water.
- Unlike other products that can be thin and watery, this product comes in a thicker formula to prevent evaporation.
